Cash, Appliances Taken In Burglaries

Burglars hit three locations in the Lincoln Estates area last Thursday night or Friday morning and carried off some $1,600 in cash and several appliances.

Seamon's Food Market on U. S. 30 was hardest hit. The thieves broke into a safe there and got about $1,600 in cash and some $400 in checks, according to the report at the Will County sheriff's office.

SEAMAN Recruit Duane P. Hahn, USN, son of Mrs. Betty Hahn, 11720 Stephanie Lane, Mokena, has been graduated from nine weeks of Navy basic training at the Naval Training Center.

They also broke into the neighborhood Behnke Studios where they got $22 in cash and then forced entry to the office of the Prestwick Country Club. There they carted off a portable TV, a Zenith radio, an Underwood typewriter, two antique lamps, a vacuum cleaner and a bucket.

At each place the burglars broke their way in, causing considerable damage.

STUDENTS THRILLED by flag sent to Mokena's Carpenter St. School by U. S. Senator Percy. The flag is one that flew over the capitol and was forwarded to the school after it had put in a request for one. Left to right these pupils are, Mark Tilsy, 5th grade; Janine Barenx, 2d grade; Betsy Benson, 1st grade; Ricky Dillavou, 3d grade and Jill Weitendorf, 4th grade.

County Board Holds Up McIntosh Rezoning Plan

The zoning committee of the Will County Board of Supervisors has acted to protect the interest of Frankfort Township taxpayers who were about to receive a piece of gristle while the good meat and gravy went to Cook County.

At a recent meeting of the Will County zoning board of appeals the petition of Arthur T. McIntosh for reclassification of 82 acres of land the developer owns in the vicinity of Sauk Trail, Harlem Av. and Prestwick Drive, McIntosh wanted the zoning changed from single family residences to multiple dwellings.

It was also brought out that McIntosh plans to create a shopping center and a light industry district. But the business and industrial districts were to be on the Cook County side of the line, it was brought out when the question came before the Will County Board of Supervisors for approval.

The zoning committee of that body recommended that the case be held up until the committee had an opportunity to meet with McIntosh.

Supervisor John E. Francis of New Lenox, chairman of the zoning committee, said it was the hope of that group that McIntosh would see fit to change his plans so that the housing would go to Cook county and the business and industrial districts be placed in Will county to aid the school district (Ann Rutledge) Frankfort Township and the county.

"We don't think it fair or just," Supervisor Francis said, for this developer to locate all of his apartment buildings in Frankfort township and place the business and industrial property in Cook county.

"There would be real estate taxes paid, of course, on the apartment buildings but one could rightly expect there would be a large number of children residing in these apartment buildings, a fact that would place a great burden on the schools. I don't believe that the taxes that would come from this property would begin to compensate the schools for the additional expense such population increase would entail.

"Our committee wants to see commercial and industrial development on the Will County side. The county would benefit from the sales tax a business center would produce and the school district, the township and the county would benefit more from the real estate taxes on business and industrial property than it would from residential property.

The McIntosh land runs south of Lincoln Estates.

$2½ million rate reduction for gas heat customers.

This—the seventh major reduction since 1962—goes into effect on May 1. Isn't it time you switched to gas heat? In so many ways, it makes sense.

The average residential space heating customer will pay approximately $25 less next winter than he did five years ago under normal weather conditions.

We'll finance the conversion to gas through your heating contractor. Terms: No down payment. No payment until October 1, 1967. Up to 5 years to pay. Payments as low as $3 a month.

Clean, comfortable, dependable gas heat saves you money from the very start. In fact, your savings soon pay for the cost of conversion.

With gas heat you'll be rid of expensive maintenance, costly repairs. And because you'll have no delivery problems, you'll have peace of mind. (You can put your own price tag on that!)

And it also makes sense—when you heat with gas, why not cool with gas? Ask your contractor about adding gas air conditioning, too. (We'll finance both.)

Crime Lab Studies Mokena House Fire

Two Mokena men, picked up by Police Chief Roy Newton in connection with the fire set in a vacant house on Schoolhouse Road April 25, were set at liberty the next day following their appearance before Circuit Court Magistrate Charles Connor. Now, however, comes word from the state's attorney's office that the case is still under investigation.

Picked up near the scene of the fire was Donald Nieman, 21, of 11138 First Av. Chief Newton reported that when he picked him up, Nieman was carrying two empty oil cans.

Newton stated in his report that eventually Nieman allegedly admitted to saturating a portion of the old house with fuel oil and setting it ablaze. According to investigators the owner of the property had given the house to the Mokena Volunteer Fire Department to use for practicing various fire-fighting techniques.

In the course of the questioning Nieman is alleged to have told police that he was driven to the scene by Warren Nelson, 32, 195th and Wolf Rd. in Nieman's car which Nelson is reported to have driven back to a tavern on Front St. and parked it there. Later Nieman denied Nelson drove him to the scene, remarking that he had dropped off the oil several hours earlier and went to the house on foot, it was said.

Nieman was first charged with arson but the charge was dropped when the prosecution became aware that Nieman had not been warned that he was entitled to counsel and had the right to refuse to answer any questions and that anything he said would be taken down and used against him, until after he had been questioned by Chief Newton and Fire Chief Robert Rust.

Nelson denied that he had driven Nieman to the house or had any knowledge of the case. Other than that he refused to answer any questions.

Both men were set at liberty on April 26 but since that time, according to State's Attorney George C. Sangmeister, the Illinois Crime Lab has become involved in the investigation. He is waiting on the report from the crime lab now and the nature of that report will determine what action he may take, he said. There is a statute, he said, that deals with criminal damage to property.

Frankfort Cemetery Group Is Against Indiscriminate Zoning Of Adjacent Tract

At the annual meeting of the Pleasant Hill Cemetery Association of Frankfort conducted on Wednesday night of last week the membership voted against the rezoning of 66 acres adjacent to the cemetery for light industry on an indiscriminate basis.

The members indicated that they were in favor of having industry in the community but wanted to be certain that any located in the proximity of the cemetery would be of pleasing appearance and would not be a nuisance in any way.

They don't want any plant or factory that would be noisy, nor emit smoke, disagreeable odors, or waste that would litter the cemetery.

If it were certain that before any plant would be permitted to build in the sought for industrial zone, the cemetery association would be shown the plans and fully informed on the process the members would likely give approval, it was indicated.

Association members are concerned about the rezoning because the proposed development would be in such close proximity, it was pointed out.

The incoming student will then be given a tour of the building. Small groups will be formed so that new students can ask questions of the student council members. Teachers will not be present for these sessions. The boys will then meet with the athletic coaches and physical education staff while the girls meet with the women from the girls' P.E. department.

The program is expected to terminate at 11 a.m. Students unable to attend should send word with a friend that they still plan on attending Lincoln-Way in September.

Rutledge Bond Vote May 20

The board of education of the Ann Rutledge School District, No. 56-C has the date for another referendum on a proposed bond issue for an addition to the present school plant. The election is to be held May 20 between the hours of 12 noon and 7 p.m. with the school serving as the polling place. The proposed bond issue is $49,000 --up $2,000 since it was voted on previously, because of the rise on construction costs.

The board plans to build another classroom and the shell of a multi-purpose room. There are seven classrooms now and that number is not sufficient to meet the needs of the growing enrollment, board members pointed out.

board of appeals continued the hearing on the petition for reclassification of the property until May 11. A group of Frankfort residents are asking that the 66 acres be rezoned from single-family residential to permit multiple dwellings and light industry.

The cemetery association members also elected officers. Orville Schroeder was re-elected president; Harold Ebert, vice-president; Leroy Mager, secretary - treasurer, and Arthur C. Bauch, Roland Knippel and Ebert were elected directors for two-year terms.

Frankfort School Tax Increase Beaten Again: Board Starts Cutting

With the proposed 21-cent increase in the Educational Fund tax rate defeated by voters in Frankfort Grade School District 157-C last Saturday, the board of education last Monday night began its task of cutting expenses.

The big problem, according to school administrators, is hiring and keeping teachers. Two fourth grade teachers and a junior high science teacher are needed now but there are no applications and Supt. Leroy Olson fears that with the tax rate issue beaten again last Saturday that it will be difficult to get qualified teachers.

Should the school fail to get these two fourth grade teachers it would mean that that grade next year probably would be one of the largest single grades in the country, it was said. School authorities contend pupils do not do so well in large classes.

When the 1967-68 school year begins next September there will be no vocal music program at Frankfort and the room used for that purpose will be rented to the Lincoln-Way Area Special Education program.

The board also stated there will be no financial support given the summer band program; there will be no assistant coach in athletics and the school will no longer participate in the Educational TV program because the supplies for this run between $500 and $800 a year. The board is also cutting down on supplies and materials for regular courses and has turned thumbs down on the proposed hiring of a guidance director for the district. The district is supposed to be reimbursed by the state for this program but the legislature hasn't said anything about appropriating the money yet and the board decided not to take a chance because the district could not afford to meet the cost out of its own money, Supt. Olson said.

The board indicated that it would again submit the proposal to the voters but has not decided upon a time. It was believed that the next referendum on increasing the Educational Fund tax rate would be held sometime next fall.

At Saturday's election the proposal lost 189 to 135. A couple of months ago it lost by a smaller margin but on both occasions little interest was shown by the voters, several community representatives have pointed out.

On May 12 all children who expect to enter kindergarten next fall are called upon to register in the library at Frankfort School, Oregon and Hickory. Registration hours will be from 1:30 to 3 o'clock. To be eligible to enter kindergarten a child must be 5 years old on or before Dec. 1, 1967. To enter first grade a child must be 6 years old on or before Dec. 1, 1967. Children not in kindergarten last year must register for first grade. A parent must accompany children and bring the children's birth certificates.

Residents Urge All To Drive Carefully

JAMES PEYTON
Telephone: 532-1516

I have been deluged this past week with phone calls about the kids using our subdivision for a drag strip. As you all know we have no police and if you call the Sheriff's Police or the State Police someone has to sign a complaint and in many instances this is not done because of the fear of reprisal on the part of the young speeders, however, I, as Pres. of the Homeowners Assoc. will sign a complaint in the future if it does not stop. If one of our small children were to get killed even the hotrodders would feel bad but it would not bring life back to the child so I ask all of you to please cooperate and drive slowly in the sub-division itself. Just a week ago one of our local law enforcement agencies clocked a car at 120 M.P.H. This man must be nuts as we don't have a street in the whole state were a car can be driven safely nor do we have a driver qualified to drive that fast, either. Also this particular case happened on wet streets. This guy belongs at the funny farm permanently.

COMPLAINS OF SPEEDERS

Sir:
On Saturday, April 22, 1967, on or about 7 p.m. someone came down Walnut St. (Arbury Hills) pretty fast, just as my boy was taking the dog out for a walk. I know he was not on a leash, and when we open the garage door he runs right across the street. But if the party was not going as fast as he was, he might have missed him. But as it was he did not. Also he did not stop, just kept on going down Walnut to the other block of 196th St. I had to take the dog to a vet and because of injuries to his back he had to be put to sleep.

I want to thank God it was my dog and not your child or someone else's child. You, I and everyone else will have to stop using Walnut St. as a speedway if we want to save our children and our dogs. After having been with us for eight years our dog was just like one of the family.

Illinois Bankers Association Opposes Branch Banking

The Illinois Bankers Association which includes Bremen State Bank, Orland State Bank, Palos State Bank and Midlothian State Bank, will continue to oppose the legalization of branch banking in the state, according to a statement released following introduction in the General Assembly recently of branch banking legislation, backed by the two giant Chicago loop banks.

The state's bankers contend that "It's the same old bill that nobody wants except a few big banks which hunger to concentrate even further their great financial power in Illinois." There is no need for branching. There is no demand for it!

The IBA believes that the General Assembly will reject the "pressures of the big bankers just as they have in the last four sessions when branching has been proposed.

The Association regards branch banking as "monopolistic, since its effect is always to reduce the number of banks and thereby reduce the amount of competition in banking.

A provision in this year's bill, prohibiting branching in cities of 5,000 or less which already have a bank, is dismissed by the IBA as an obvious ploy to neutralize the opposition of some small bankers to branching.

"This kind of tactic won't work because the vast majority of all the banks in the state are opposed to branch banking on the basis of their concern for the public interest, and the public interest rejects any reliance on promises of limitations and containment -- which the big bankers apparently feel are necessary.

The limitations included in this year's version constitute an admission by the monopoly-minded bankers behind branching that they have their eyes on the big deposits in big towns. They don't even pretend anymore that they want branching to serve people in small communities -- until later in the game."

Approval of a new, modern banking system at the November, 1966, general election is cited by the IBA as evidence that the General Assembly, with public approval, has already established a set of state banking laws that are considered a model for the entire nation.

"Significant, far-reaching changes in the state banking act have just been made," the Association points out. "These changes are the direct result of recommendations made by the Illinois Bankers Association, following an intensive three year study, which included examination of banking codes in other states, and consultation with civic organizations and leading authorities throughout the United States.

"As a result of that study, the Association agreed, the Legislature concurred and the people confirmed that 1966 changes in the Banking Act represented the most thorough -- going effort possible to give Illinois the best state banking system in the nation. It was the consensus that the introduction of branch banking would be a step backward in that effort.

"Our positive efforts in behalf of the new code are consistent with our traditional support for constructive change that contributes to progress and that strengthens -- not reduces -- the competitive community -- orientation of banks."

"It is competition and the commitment of banks to the community where they are located that has enabled the Illinois banking system to make important contributions to the state's industrial, commercial and economic leadership."

"This leadership, according to the IBA, "is another indication that there is no need for branch banking in the state."

"The IBA is regretful that costly, wasteful Legislative TIME spread now over 10 years, has been taken up by an issue which is promoted on the basis of the selfish ambitions of a few big banks and has no relationship to the needs or desires of the general public.

"Four consecutive sessions of the Legislature have considered the arguments for branching and have found them fallacious.

"The same old arguments are now re-appearing. Once again, we will have to prove that increased bank deposits and increased economic activity do not result from branch banking; that branching results in more branch offices but few banks, less competition and greater concentration of financial power. Once more, we will show how branching results in less personal service and more red tape, less innovation and more conformity in services."

MENTAL HORTICULTURE AND FLORICULTURE

Birds of a feather flock together and so do gardeners of similar interests. A number of active garden clubs attract amateur horticulturists in the Chicago area. Among the largest and oldest is the thousand member Chicago Horticultural Society that was established in 1890. It's the fourth oldest group in the United States, and over the past years has provided outstanding services to its members and the community.

For example the offices at 116 S. Michigan contains a constantly growing library of garden books, magazines and clippings, many unobtainable elsewhere in this area.

At the same location experienced staff members may be consulted in person, by phone or by mail. On Tuesday during the lunch hour from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. society members and others in the loop area may obtain special in person assistance. According to Robert P. Wintz, executive director of the Society, the Tuesday noon consultation time is one of the most popular services of the Society.

The official publication of the Society "Garden Talk" is under the supervision of Editor Nathan Morris. It features timely articles by prominent local and national author gardeners. Pamphlets specially prepared for gardening in the Chicagoland area are also available. The latest publication is an illustrated step by guide to growing chrysanthemums.

Lectures by outstanding horticultural experts on timely subjects of gardening interest are a regular part of the societies overall information program.

Community service is also an important part of the societies program. Society members give as well as receive. They support projects for preventing the spread of neighborhood deterioration and blight and for protecting the beauty of parks, parkways and forest preserves. Most unusual if their fragrant garden for the blind at the Lighthouse for the Blind at 1800 W. Roosevelt Rd.

A project that will be significant for some time to come is the development of a Botanic Garden for Chicagoland. Currently a large tract of land along the Edens expressway in Skokie is being developed for this project.

Anyone can obtain horticultural information by phoning the Society at Dearborn 2-3497. However, gardeners can enroll for membership by sending ten dollars to the society office at 116 S. Michigan near the loop. Memberships are for husband and wife and include two free tickets to the Chicago World Flower and Garden Show.

Hold Steger Man For Monee Farm Slaying

A well driller from Steger, Herman Moenck, 56, of 3435 Peoria St., is being held in the Will County jail on a charge of murder.

He is accused of the fatal shooting of Kenneth E. Arnold, 40, of 16212 Cambridge St., Markham, a caretaker on a farm near Monee, where the shooting took place.

According to Lt. John Shelley, of the Will County sheriff's office, Moenck told him that he and his son, Martin, 25, of the same Steger address, had paid $3,600 to Arnold for some bargain price liquor but delivery was not made, nor was the money returned.

On Tuesday of last week (April 25) the two Moencks began looking for Arnold and found him in a barbershop at Steger. According to the elder Moenck's statement to Lt. Shelley, the report states, Arnold accompanied them to the street and there Moenck forced him to enter a car at gunpoint and the trio drove to the farm where Arnold was employed.

The farm is located on the Crete-Monee blacktop road, about two miles east of Monee. It is a part of what was known as the Bonner Estate, now owned by Hillside Development Co., of Chicago and leased to Mr. and Mrs. Jack Pockrus. Neither Pockrus nor his wife was at home at the time.

According to the report at the sheriff's office Arnold is alleged to have lunged at Martin Moenck when the three had alighted from the car at the farm but was warned away by the father, who was holding a .38 caliber pistol. Arnold is alleged to have then turned toward the father.

Moenck was quoted by Shelley that he warned Arnold not to come any closer but that the latter kept coming. Moenck fired two shots, the report states, and both bullets struck Arnold in the face. He dropped to the ground and Moenck then went to a telephone and called the sheriff's office, reporting the shooting and saying that he would await the officers. Coroner Willard G. Blood said the man apparently died instantly.

Moenck and his son waited and when Lt. Shelley and a squad arrived the two were taken into custody, the younger Moenck under protective arrest.

On Wednesday, the next day, State's Attorney George Sangmeister had a warrant issued charging Herman Moenck with murder. He was arraigned before Circuit Court Magistrate Charles Connor Wednesday afternoon and held without bond. The son was released, the state's attorney's office stating that they had no charge against him.

When Moenck surrendered to Shelley he turned over two pistols to the officer.

Last fall Will county police discovered a cache of stolen automobile parts in a building on a different portion of the property, where these items were found was not on the property leased by Mr. and Mrs. Pockrus.

County police said that the Moencks had asked for permission to carry pistols on grounds that they feared their lives were in danger. There is no permit law in Illinois and the only way the county could have met such request was to have made the Moencks deputy sheriffs and that the sheriff's office refused to do, Lt. Shelly said.

WANT-AD WONDERS

LIFE DREAM IS REALIZED THROUGH WANT AD

"For 45 years I've had a burning desire to drive a Rolls-Royce," said Mrs. Rona Curry, 61. "Now I'm happy. I've done it." Mrs. Curry put this Want Ad in the personal column of the London Times:

"Grandmother recently passed advanced driver's test long full ambition drive Rolls for half hour or so."

A great-grandfather let Mrs. Curry drive his Rolls for about two hours and went along as her passenger... she did not go faster than 65 miles an hour.

99-Automobiles For Sale

$1639⁰⁰

What's the catch?
There isn't any.
$1639 is the suggested retail price at the port of entry for the VW Sedan.

The price includes federal excise tax and import duty.

It includes the built-in heater/defroster, windshield washer, electric windshield wipers and dual padded sun visors.

It's the price of the real thing; not a stripped-down economy model.

What else do you have to pay?

The charge for transporting the car from the port of entry. The dealer delivery charge.

And local sales tax.

There is one optional that makes a lot of sense: the matching leatherette upholstery, for $30.00 extra. Nearly everyone orders it because it eliminates the need for slip covers. And that's it.

(Unless, of course, you count the cost of gas and oil it takes you to get here in your present car.)
